

Approaches to the Great Settlement (Classic Reprint)

Excerpt from Approaches to the Great Settlement
The object of this map is merely to present the broad outlines of racial distribution in Central and Eastern Europe. Any attempt to indicate the numerous racial minorities and scattered enclaves in Hungary and the Balkans would necessitate treatment on a far larger scale than the scope of the Round Table permits. Some of the racial boundaries in the Balkans are of necessity somewhat arbitrary, in view of recent events. In order to help the readers eye, the Teutonic districts have been left unshaded, while the Slavonic districts are shaded by sloping lines. About the Publisher
